IS THIS THE 20th CENTURY?

(From the Overland Monthly Magazine.)

Is this the enlightened 20th Century or is it A. D. 1700? We have been watching a contest that is suggestive of the Middle Ages.

A telegram to the "Bulletin" from the "Kansas City Journal" says that prominent people in that city are recovering from Bright's Disease and Diabetes under a special discovered in this city, and asks if the same thing is occurring here and if the results are permanent.

The "Bulletin" reply was "Yes" to both questions.

Consider what this means! Nothing less than that Bright's Disease and Diabetes, two of the greatest scourges known, are curable. This is of profound moment to the whole world. And yet, because the formula belongs to individuals, it has been considered non-ethical and but little noticed by the medical profession, and this notwithstanding the fact that prominent people in this city, including professional and business men, have been cured to so great a number as to exclude doubt.

The editor of the "Overland Monthly" personally knows a number who have recovered. Among them is an editor. He was very low and his death was looked upon as certain. Another is an old school physician. The latter was rejected for insurance. He would not permit his ethics to stand between him and his own recovery. He can now pass. One would have thought that this case would have attracted attention. But the only comment he reported was an arrangement by a brother physician for using a non-ethical preparation.

We recall that Paracelsus' discovery of the use of mercury was decreed for forty years, and vaccination was fought nearly as long. And yet, what physician does not use both?

And history seems to be repeating itself, for it has for several years been known to some hundreds, probably thousands, in this city that Bright's Disease and Diabetes are no longer in the list of incurable diseases. And yet the world does not know it. Editors, lawyers, manufacturers and business men have discussed it openly, but physicians have breathed but softly of it, although scores have seen patients that demanded the new specific recovery.

At the rate the deaths from Bright's Disease are increasing under the most skillful orthodox treatment, according to government and municipal reports, if Paracelsus' forty years' experience is to be repeated, somebody is shouldering an awful responsibility, for what is happening to the patients in their long, unending while the antagonists of the medical schools are adjusting themselves to new conditions?

Multiplying monuments will mutely answer. It may be that in this age of books and newspapers the people will willingly continue to die of Bright's Disease and Diabetes because it is orthodox rather than recover and face the charge that they are not ethical. But we doubt it. We can as easily believe in the sanity of the prospector dying of thirst in the desert rather than accept water from a newly discovered spring because not on his chart.

Future history will record this decade as marking the first definite control of chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes, and the name of the obscure but lamented Fulton will be as indissolubly connected with it as Harvey's with the circulation of the blood. That is clear enough, but how many tens of thousands will be sacrificed to an antiquated orthodoxy before the mountains of opposition and prejudice have been melted by the march of progress, the sun of tolerance and the needs of humanity—Overland Monthly.

The above article refers to the astounding recovery now being made by the Fulton treatment for urgent cases here. We will see that people with Bright's Disease, Diabetes or serious kidney disease are sent literature on this important discovery.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

There are more veterans in the Vermont soldiers' home at Bennington than at any corresponding period of the year since the institution started. The reason is that the cool weather of the spring has put off requests for furloughs which have been common at this time of the year, and the old soldiers also make shorter visits away from home than formerly.

Supt. D. L. Morgan of the house of correction, Rutland, has an interesting relic found on the streets of that city. It is a metal medal about the size of a 50-cent gold piece and contains on one side the inscription "War 1861, United States" and on the other "H. C. Rogers, Company 1, 2nd Regiment, Vermont Volunteers, Mount Holly."

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Ballard, of Montpelier, will leave home April 25 for Los Angeles, Cal., where Mr. Ballard will represent Mount Sinai Temple, Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, of Montpelier, at the Imperial Council meeting May 7 and 8. They will return by way of Portland, Oregon, Seattle, Wash., and Victoria and Vancouver, B. C.

State Fish and Game Commissioner R. G. Thomas, of Stowe, has received a letter from John W. Delano, chairman of the fisheries and game department of Massachusetts, saying that eleven lots of pike perch shipped from Canadian waters have been confiscated in that state. The laws there prohibit the killing and transportation of those fish during the breeding season, not only in the state but from outside the state.

At a hearing before the Rutland board of liquor commissioners on the twenty-nine applications for Rutland's eleven liquor licenses, only one objection was raised, the complainant being the Clanton Shoe Co., whose place of business is near the proposed location of Fred Penn's liquor store. The license board this year has started a new form of campaign. It will meet every Friday to hear complaints and grievances. Previously boards have had no regular time of meeting.

Line House Keeper Will Retire.

E. P. Choudinard, who conducted the notorious line house at Beecher Falls (in Canada) and Herford, Que., which April 18 was raided jointly by Vermont and Canadian officers, says that he will retire from all connection with the place as soon as his case is settled in the Vermont courts, and it is extremely doubtful if the owners of the property will find another man daring enough to risk a repetition of the simultaneous raid recently made.

While other line houses exist on the Canadian frontier between the St. Croix river and Niagara Falls, none have so persistently maintained the sale of liquor and so openly defied the representatives of the law as the Beecher Falls place.

It is generally considered by the officers of Vermont and the province of Quebec that the worst place on the eastern border has been compelled to surrender.

Choudinard was regarded as a "bad man" from an official point of view, yet in many ways he appears as a worthy citizen of the community. He was always obliging to his neighbors and was willing to do anything in his power to help a cause worthy of support.

He had, however, announced himself as determined to resist capture at all costs, and the fact that he made every effort to draw his revolver against Constable C. E. Johnson is accepted by state's attorney H. B. Ames as prima facie evidence that he would have used his gun rather than be arrested had an opportunity to shoot been given him.

Only two weeks ago Choudinard declared to a detective that all the laws of the state of Vermont could not keep him from selling liquor, and that his arrangements had been so carefully made that one hundred officers from either Vermont or Quebec could not secure sufficient evidence under the law to convict him.

He forgot, evidently, the efficiency of a joint raid by officers from the state of Vermont and the province of Quebec, and to that fact is due the downfall of the noted line house, which had so long withstood the attacks of administrators of the law from one or the other nation at different periods.
